What's So Special about Easter?

A Sunday school teacher was teaching a group of four-year-olds. It was Easter Sunday and she asked, "Does anyone know what today is?" One little girl raised her hand and said, "It's Easter." The teacher complimented her and then asked, "Does anyone know what makes Easter so special?" The same little girl raised her hand and said, "Easter is special because Jesus rose from the dead..." Before the teacher could compliment her, the little girl added, "but if He sees His shadow, He has to go back in for seven weeks."

Since the year 325, Easter has been observed on the first Sunday after the full moon following the vernal equinox (the time when the sun crosses the equator). Therefore, Easter always falls between March 22nd and April 25th. Early Christians observed Easter on the 14th day of Nisan (April) regardless of what day of the week it fell on.

But, regardless of when it is observed, Easter is and will always be a special day for every believer. It is special because it of what it represents historically, biblically, spiritually and personally.

When you look at the preaching of the apostles you find that the Easter message was the dominant theme of their preaching and witnessing. It was the heart and soul of the message they shared and declared. In Acts 4:33 we read, "And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus." It is obvious, that to them, the meaning and message of Easter was special.

What's so important about Easter? It's important because it proved that Jesus was who he claimed to be. He was God in the flesh, and he came to earth to save us. It's a celebration of the fact that Jesus is alive today. I'm living proof -- and so are the approximately 1 billion other Christians who will celebrate Easter this weekend. "... by being raised from the dead he was proved to be the mighty Son of God, with the holy nature of God himself." (Romans 1:4, LB)

What does this mean to us today? In one sense, Jesus Christ is still on trial. He's on trial in the heart and mind of every person who has not yet acknowledged him as the Son of God, the Savior of the world.

What's your verdict? You see, Easter really boils down to only two issues. One, is Jesus who he says he is? Is he God? Or is he a lunatic or a liar? And two, if he is who he says he is, when are you going to start following what he says to do with your life?

Easter is special because the resurrection of Jesus proves who He really is and that has an eternal impact on our lives.

God Bless,
Pastor Chris

Stewardship a way of life

How would you define stewardship?

by: Pat Minet

Stewardship is another way of talking about ministry, and it would revolutionize ministry if people could think of it in terms of stewardship—that we are accountable to God for what we do and with what he has trusted to us.

The word stewardship comes from the Greek word oikonomos, which means somebody who manages a household. A person doesn't own the household but manages it. And stewards in the ancient world, of course, were trusted with everything from seeing that the floors were clean, to the finances, to the public face of that household. Joseph is a good biblical example of that.

We are not the owners but have been trusted with resources and the care of everything—Creation, gifts and talents, money, time, the gospel—for the sake of God's purposes in the world.

Look for the new bumper sticker "Tithe if you love Jesus~Anyone can honk!"

Board of Christian Education

by: Pauline Griffin

When you hear the words "Christian Education" what comes to your mind? Our words that come to mind, Church, Sunday School, Christian Day School, Bible Study. Did anybody think the words Home or Family? Scripture tells us that Christian Education should begin at home. Read Deuteronomy 11:18. I'd like you to slowly read the words to the hymn "Oh, Blest the House" and take it to heart. Oh, blest the house, what-er be fall, where Jesus Christ is all in all! For if He were not dwelling there, how dark and poor and void it were! Oh, blest that house where faith is found and all in charity abound to trust their God and serve him still and do in all His holy will! Oh, blest that house; it prospers well! In peace and joy the parents dwell, and in their children's lives is shown how richly God can bless his own. Then here will I and mine today a solemn cov-'nant make and say: Though all the world forsake His Word, my house and I will serve the Lord.

ODDS and ENDS

Seek the Living One - Luke 24:1-12

“Why do you seek the living one among the dead?” The angels question the women at the tomb. He of course is not there, He is risen! He is risen indeed! Alleluia! This day we join with angels and proclaim the resurrection of Christ. He has defeated death and saved us from our sins forever. Seek the Living One, the one who is here, alive, with us forever, our Lord Jesus Christ. Alleluia!

Children can Say Blessed Things

Little Philip, born with Down's syndrome, attended a third-grade Sunday School class with several eight-year-old boys and girls. Typical of that age, the children did not readily accept Philip with his differences, according to an article in leadership magazine. But because of a creative teacher, they began to care about Philip and accept him as part of the group, though not fully.

The Sunday after Easter the teacher brought L'eggs pantyhose containers, the kind that look like large eggs. Each receiving one, the children were told to go outside on that lovely spring day, find some symbol for new life, and put it in the egg-like container. Back in the classroom, they would share their new-life symbols, opening the containers one by one in surprise fashion. After running about the church property in wild confusion, the students returned to the classroom and placed the containers on the table. Surrounded by the children, the teacher began to open them one by one. After each one, whether a flower, butterfly, or leaf, the class would ooh and ahh.

Then one was opened, revealing nothing inside. The children exclaimed, That's stupid. That's not fair. Somebody didn't do their assignment."

Philip spoke up, "That's mine."

"Philip, you don't ever do things right!" the student retorted. "There's nothing there!"

"I did so do it," Philip insisted. "I did do it. It's empty. the tomb was empty!"

Silence followed. From then on Philip became a full member of the class. He died not long afterward from an infection most normal children would have shrugged off. At the funeral this class of eight-year-olds marched up to the altar not with flowers, but with their Sunday school teacher, each to lay on it an empty pantyhose egg.

Lutheran Child and Family Services is holding a free breakfast for those who would like to come and learn more about their organization. Although the breakfast is free it is also a fundraising event but there is no obligation to give. There will be speakers who have benefited from LCFS services and information about a number of services they provide. You will be asked to consider making a contribution by a private response. There will not be any pressure of any kind for you to give. Please prayerfully consider joining me for this event. If you have any questions contact me, Pauline Griffin, 708 687-3276.

Internal spring cleaning

April 2016

Spring is a time of new beginnings, new growth, planting seeds, purification and for cleaning out the old. Following the rhythms of nature and the ways in which nature cares for itself, we can also create balance within our own lives.

We all hold onto “stuff” - useless, outdated or worn-out items we’ve collected over the years - maybe a couple extra pounds and chances are, old emotions, hurts and pains.

Spring is a great time to release ourselves from the past. Change allows us to grow. We all need to grow, develop and explore possibilities. Living with the past keeps us in the past, missing the present - missing what we are now, what can be. Breaking free from the past allows us room for the present - be it closet, attic or emotional space. Once we release ourselves from the past, the present is free to enter into our lives. We are free to continue on with our journey, to experience life fully as it is meant to be. Open the windows and let the fresh air in.

Spring cleaning can be thought of on many levels, from physically cleaning your home to purifying your body, mind and spirit.

Spring cleaning of yourself includes restoring balance in a very busy world. For most people there are key areas to balancing your life. These may include emotional, intellectual, physical, social and spiritual balance. Rate yourself on each of these areas and see where you are out of balance and what you can do in each area to achieve a more-balanced life.

You and your family do not have to struggle alone. LCFS counselors help families generate hope and cope with life’s challenges. Most insurance plans accepted; sliding-scale fees are available on a case-by-case basis.
